Ottawa Urges Caution On Medicare Proposals

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Judy LaMarsh cautioned today that a comprehensive medical care program involves great expenditures which require detailed federal-provincial discussion.

Her opening statement to the federal-provincial conference of health ministers said the federal government still is de-tended to press forward with development of essential health services.

"It must be realized however, that the recommendations of the (Hall royal commission) report will involve substantial expenditures from provincial and federal treasuries.

CHOU PLEDGES SUPPORT FOR VIET NAM REBELS

PEKING (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai today pledged China's support for Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam.

He made the statement before a rally of 10,000 in the parliament building here marking the climax of a "Week of common struggle in support of the Vietnamese people's opposition to U.S. imperialist aggression." The rally coincided with the 10th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva agreements on Indochina.

Expenditures of this magnitude may only be considered within the overall structure of our sources of revenue."

With the royal commission report on health services, the opening item on the conference agenda, Miss LaMarsh said detailed discussion will not be feasible at the two-day meeting.

She asked the provincial ministers to give their views on the form and timing of a further meeting later, noting that the royal commission proposed a federal-provincial conference on medical care within six months.

After the opening session today, Miss LaMarsh said there was "general agreement

among the provinces to accept the commission recommendations.

She said the provincial spokesmen "expressed the desire to proceed on a step-by-step basis."

Bring 'Em Back Alive At Your Peril — Carl

Capturing a killer whale, as Vancouver aquarium hunters did last week, is a highly-dangerous game, Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the provincial museum, said today.

He said he knows of two attempts made to catch killer whales alive for commercial aquariums in California. Both were unsuccessful.

On the first occasion, he said, the hunters netted a calf and were about to congratulate themselves when they noticed a pack of killer whales wheel and face them in army formation.

"They were in a small boat and they feared the pack would charge," he said. "They let the calf go."

The pack, apparently satisfied, continued on its way, he said.

TO THE RESCUE

On another occasion, he said, a young female was netted, but fought hard to escape. Then an angry male, presumably her mate, arrived on the scene. The hunters were forced to shoot him to avoid a clash with the mammal.

Meanwhile, he said, the net got entangled in the boat's propeller and the young whale escaped.

Dr. Carl said capturing killer whales is a job for men experienced in taking wild animals into captivity.

"They are intelligent mammals who mind their own business when left alone," he said.

REALLY A PORPOISE

Actually, he added, the killer whale is not really a whale. He is classed scientifically as a porpoise because of the pattern of his teeth.

Fishermen call the killer whales the wolves of the sea because they hunt in packs. They can swallow sea lions whole, crushing them first before gulping them down.

on the recommendations.

Miss MaMarsh also called today for discussion of hospital insurance, on which the federal and provincial governments share the costs roughly 50-50, and on the federal health grants.

She said she plans to give a progress report on the smoking and health program and arrangements for a federal-provincial meeting in October on mental retardation.

Following her opening statements, provincial health ministers outlined their views on the royal commission report.

A summary of available provincial views:

Saskatchewan — General support of the Hall commission report, but the recommendations "would have to be implemented on a carefully staged program which would be dictated by available resources."

British Columbia — It endorses the principle of health services program, but insists on provincial autonomy in running such a scheme, which would have to preserve the existing doctor-patient relationship.

Quebec — It is "not ready, for the moment," to establish a health insurance program, though it recognizes the necessity for one. Serious studies were needed on cost, operation and structure. When such a program begins, "full and complete" provincial jurisdiction would be essential.

Nova Scotia — For this province, the feasibility of such a scheme would depend largely on Ottawa's extent of participation. A major factor would be supplying adequate personnel to carry on a health plan successfully.

Ontario — A great deal of groundwork needs to be done among the governments before the recommendations can be discussed at a federal-provincial conference.

Newfoundland — General acceptance of the medical care proposals but implementing them would depend on the extent of federal participation. Some could be put into effect now if money was made available; others would take years.

Both British Columbia and Saskatchewan also pressed for inclusion of mental and tuberculosis care under the federal-provincial hospital insurance program.

Such a step has been recommended both by the Hall commission and the Dominion Council on Health, a federal-provincial advisory body.

However, Miss LaMarsh indicated today the federal government is unlikely to start paying half the costs of hospital treatment for mental and tuberculosis patients until it sees the results of a federal-provincial review of the country's tax structure.

British Columbia's statement stressed provincial autonomy in the field of health services.

It said the provinces have "primary jurisdiction" in the staging, scope and administration of health services. But federal financial assistance would be needed.

meeting with his slate of unpledged presidential electors.

NO INTENTION

Lieutenant-Governor James Allen, leader of the slate, announced afterwards that the presidential electors "have no intention of delivering the Democratic machinery over to the Republicans."

Allen declined to say who the electors might support, and said they would wait until after the Democratic convention to decide. He said Wallace's withdrawal has caused no change in the position of the unpledged electors.

Wallace has long contended that unpledged electors could bring the two national parties to a position where they would have to adopt programs more acceptable to the south, particularly on the civil rights issue.

He carried this campaign into the primaries of Indiana, Maryland, and Wisconsin, where he polled a strong vote.

In his television appearance, Wallace denied his decision had been made or influenced by anyone in either the Republican or Democratic parties.

The Alabama governor said he was sure his message was going to be heeded in Atlantic City, and warned that no candidate could win without support of the south.

CONDENAS COURTS

He strongly condemned the federal court system and its support of the civil rights movement. He also criticized the press, and spoke out against violence.

Tom L. Davis, executive secretary of the North Carolina Democratic party, was one of those who scored Wallace's withdrawal. "Wallace let a lot of people down," he said. Davis added he felt that while some

4,000 Vote Against CMS Strike at Trail

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — More than 4,000 workers voted Sunday to end their strike against the communities involved."

In the meantime picket lines remained up around Cominco operations here and in Kimberley and the strike formally continued through its third day. The walkout began at 3 p.m. Friday.

Cominco said the proposed two-year contract will be referred to its "principals." This was taken to mean the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the parent company.

Company acceptance was expected to be a formality. D. D. Morris, Cominco vice-president and general manager, said during the weekend that the company agreed to the contract's terms because of "deep concern over the devastation effect of a strike in the communities involved."

At the time he was suffering a fractured skull and his condition was not believed to be serious.

He was injured when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a parked car on Bute Street in Port Alberni.

Driver of the car was Bruce V. Jordan of Lakeshore Road, Alberni.

Police are still investigating the accident. No date has been set for an inquest.

ONCE upon a time it was hoped that the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference, which ended last week, would be devoted mainly to discussion of Commonwealth economic aid and co-operation. This was the hope of Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in particular, who calculated this conference as a pre-election vote-getter for his party. Establishment of a Commonwealth economic council, for instance, would go over well in some Tory circles.

Some of Sir Alec's advisers warned him that the conference would not be quite what he had in mind, but to no avail. Up until very close to conference time, Sir Alec and Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandy seriously thought they could rig the conference agenda to concentrate on items of electoral advantage to their party.

At one point Southern Rhodesia was listed for discussion of one-half hour on the last day of the conference. This was hastily-changed when the realities became clear. So as it turned out the conference spent most of its time discussing the political and racial question members were interested in from the start, as Canada early warned Britain would be the case.

But the subjects of economic aid and co-operation did manage to occupy six hours of conference time, and they are regarded by all members as important in making the Commonwealth meaningful in the long term.

Striking Contrast

The first point to note is the striking contrast between this conference and the previous one, called to discuss Britain's then impending entry into the European Economic Community. This time there was no talk—none whatever—of treating the Commonwealth as an economic unit.

It was fully recognized that the big problems of rich versus poor, terms of trade, and exports of underdeveloped countries had to be treated on a global and not a Commonwealth scale.

The Beaverbrook-Diefenbaker belief in an artificially fostered Commonwealth trading circle as the key to the Commonwealth's future is dead.

One wonders whether, if Britain again applies to enter the European Economic Community, the Commonwealth could again work up such a trauma over the move as it did in 1962.

This year Commonwealth members accepted the over-riding importance of GATT and the UN trade conference, stressing intra-Commonwealth efforts only as "a further distinctive contribution" to the development of member countries, in the words of the conference communiqué.

The communiqué noted Commonwealth interest in several schemes: cooperative Commonwealth development projects, administrative training aid, general education aid, a Commonwealth medical conference, a Commonwealth foundation to foster professional exchanges and the Canadian-proposed satellite communications aid.

But most noteworthy of all was that the Commonwealth co-operation scheme which most interested Afro-Asian delegates is not economic at all. The final section of the communiqué expresses delegates' feelings:

"They were anxious that some permanent expression should be given to the desire, which had been evident through their deliberations, for closer and more informed understanding between their governments on the many issues which engage their attention and for some continuing machinery for this purpose. They therefore instructed officials to consider the best basis for establishing a Commonwealth secretariat, which would be available, inter alia, to disseminate factual information to all member countries on matters of common concern; to assist existing agencies, both official and unofficial, in the promotion of Commonwealth links in all fields . . ."

Coming as it did from such delegates as President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, this proposal caught white Commonwealth delegates almost unaware. Earlier proposals for permanent Commonwealth "machinery" had come from such imperial-minded individuals as Sir Robert Menzies of Australia. They had been resisted by other Commonwealth countries, notably including Canada, who feared it would encourage Whitehall domination.

This time Britain itself was trying to head off the idea of establishing permanent Commonwealth institutions. High British spokesmen told the press before the Conference that institutions could only weaken "an organization of unlike-minded nations."

The real reason for the turnabout was that Britain realized it stood no chance of dominating a Commonwealth secretariat in this new age. Similarly, the realization that they would dominate it themselves prompted the Afro-Asians to back the secretariat.

The Canadian delegation readily accepted the new situation despite some inner misgivings that Afro-Asians might, for instance, hope to use it to promulgate their own views as common Commonwealth policies on sensitive issues.

A secretariat will, it is hoped, cut the entire Commonwealth in on a common fund of information. It will also, Afro-Asians hope privately, undercut the distrusted Commonwealth relations office, which they consider to be not a Commonwealth instrument but an instrument of British policy, especially under the slippery Mr. Duncan Sandy.

Investing in the Fair

IN THE MINDS OF MANY Canadians the 1967 World's Fair, which is to be held in Montreal and will form part of Canada's centenary celebrations, looms up as little more than an extravagant outlay of public funds. After all it has been reported that of the $167 millions to be spent in setting up the fair only about $120 millions will be recovered in direct revenues, leaving some $47 millions to be paid for out of the public purse.

There is a brighter side to the picture, however, as Mr. George Hees, president of the Montreal Stock Exchange and an ardent world's fair booster, pointed out in a speech last week.

Rather than looking on the $47 millions—which is to be shared 50 per cent by the federal government, 37.5 per cent by Quebec and 12.5 per cent by Montreal—as a deficit, Mr. Hees suggests it should be considered as an investment which will pay a return of $1 billion.

He figures it this way: The inflow of foreign visitors will boost tourist revenue by $400 millions; federal tax revenues will be in-

Italy Shakes the Market

THE PRESENT POLITICAL crisis in Italy—which has given rise to considerable concern among Italy's Common Market partners—is not likely to be solved by formation of yet another centre-left coalition.

This crisis, erupting with the resignation of Premier Aldo Moro three weeks ago when his government was defeated on a minor issue, is counted by observers as the worst of 20 since 1948. Trouble has been almost continuous for two years since the first centre-left coalition, hailed as the "opening to the left," was put together by Amintore Fanfani.

Under Premier Fanfani labor pressed ahead for higher wages, aided by a tightening labor market. Productivity began to fall behind wage cost increases while workers went on a buying spree that bid up prices and tipped the economy into a runaway inflation.

To make matters worse, goaded on by his Socialist Party partners in the coalition, Signor Fanfani upset domestic and foreign business interests by adding electric power to the country's nationalized industries. Investment funds from both home and abroad started to dry up.

Signor Moro last December formed another centre-left coalition when the previous government was unable to carry on but he had no more success than his predecessor in meeting the situation. His own Christian Democrat Party was unable to agree on effective remedies to deal with the economic crisis and left-wing coalition partners, the left-wing Socialists, fearful of losing votes to the Communists, insisted on even more costly social reform which the country simply could not afford.

Alderman Arthur Dowell

THE REGULARITY WITH which he was returned to office on the City Council—but one of many public and semi-public bodies to which he gave unstinting service—reflected the confidence of Victoria's citizens in the late Arthur Dowell. He served well and his fellow townsmen appreciated the sound, unostentatious way in which he went about his considerable duties.

Improving Air Safety

ONE OF THE GREATEST difficulties in determining the cause of most serious airliner crashes has been the lack of information from the one man who could best tell what had gone wrong—the pilot.

Flight recorders, which provide on tape a continuous reading on altitude, heading, speed and other mechanical functions are now standard in most airliners but they do not provide any record of the human factors in flight.

Now the American Federal Aviation Agency has ruled that all airliners under its jurisdiction must be provided with voice recorders in addition to flight recorders. These would continuously monitor the conversations of members of the flight crew and preserve them on tape in a unit of sufficient strength and strategically placed to survive most crashes. The voice recorders would be in operation from the time of take-off until the aircraft lands safely again.

There seems to be little doubt that this additional equipment will be extremely valuable in determining the causes of airline mishaps and will in turn lead to greater safety in the air through spotting factors which need correction. The American agency has taken a lead which should be followed by regulatory bodies in other countries.

THE TASK FOR GOLDWATER

The Need to Prove a Sense of Responsibility

SENATOR Barry Goldwater's San Francisco victory was more than decisive. It was spectacular beyond all precedent. No other candidate in this century faced so bleak a furrow when he began the quest for the nomination so many long months ago; and no one has gathered so abundant a harvest.

This result is a tribute to his own qualities and to the organization he has created inside the Republican Party to carry out his principles. Four years ago those principles were defeated and repudiated at another Republican convention.

Now they are so triumphant that the critics stand abashed at the power which must be broken before they can hope to regain the control of the party.

For the Republican Party will not be shattered by Goldwater's nomination. Of course there were some disgruntled leaders at the convention and there must be many disappointed Republican voters across the country. But the Democrats are following a dangerous illusion if they think they will be fighting a weak and divided and demoralized Republican Party in the presidential campaign.

The man who could impose himself in such decisive fashion on the Republican Party may also be able to impress far more Americans of his fitness to be President than the Democrats now allow themselves to believe.

Since he took his first hesitant step on the presidential trail, Goldwater has always been derided and underestimated. President Johnson is unlikely to make that mistake. Elections are always unpredictable.

The very violence of the opposition to Goldwater tends to blind many to the forces that are committed to his support, and these forces will not be beaten without a struggle. After all, Clement Attlee defeated Winston Churchill in 1945 after Churchill had led Britain to victory in the war. If that upset was possible, anything can happen in this presidential election between now and November.

Certainly Goldwater has been greatly helped by the brave and magnanimous offer from Gov. William Scranton to campaign actively for him. This offer will be a guide to other Republican leaders who are opposed to Goldwater's philosophy.

Gen. Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, Gov. Scranton and Gov. George Romney will now take the lead in standing at Goldwater's side and helping to heal the bitter wounds left by this struggle for power.

That is an impressive line-up, and once again the Democrats should ponder its meaning.

So should Goldwater. His campaign can rise to the height of the great national argument only if he thinks he has a serious chance of victory in November and conveys that conviction to the country.

He is not conducting a seminar on conservatism. He is no longer an apostle of a personal philosophy in American politics. He is seeking the presidency in a campaign where indiscretion is disastrous and where constant responsibility is the secret of victory. Now he must prove that he can grow into presidential timber. The audience is skeptical but he still has the chance to reverse its verdict.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Doctor's Opinion

The public wants authoritative comments on Medical Care Insurance. Only those providing the Medical Care and the Insurance can so comment. Politicians and news commentators cannot. For the most part I am content to let the Canadian Medical Association speak for me but there is a certain hunger on the part of the public to hear individual opinions from doctors.

There has been an impression fostered that doctors do not favor Medical Care Insurance which is quite false. Doctors were the first in B.C. to start an organized Medical Care Insurance Company. Today that company is M.S.A. which the doctors no longer control. Nevertheless they subsidize it still. Every medical or surgical account I submit for instance, to M.S.A. and all such Insurance Companies in B.C., has ten per cent withheld by the company.

In addition, the Canadian Medical Association in B.C. has spent a good deal of money in the past in studying details of the national health scheme of other countries so that they could recommend the best to the public. What other group has taken such interest or indeed could be in a position to assess such schemes even if viewed first hand.

I'll Take the Deer

Re the article regarding those terrible deer devouring all such things as flowers, strawberries, cabbage and other items too numerous to mention.

I myself cultivate around 20 acres, some in garden, some field carrots, corn and some oats and peas and hay for my stock. I do a little logging also, and nothing pleases me more, while working for a living, than a deer for company even if it does steal a few carrots, peas, oats and the odd cabbage.

I like animal life a lot more than some of the people, including hunters, who have no respect for the privacy of other people living the year round in these woods. At least I do enjoy nature and not the artificial. My advice to those poor people in Saanich is to put up signs, "No deer allowed. Private property."

A HIGHLANDER BY CHOICE.

Clipping By Area

Now that the price of haircuts has gone up to $1.75 I think that some consideration should be given to the man with the receding hairline.

Two suggestions come to my mind.

One, that the same system be used by barbers as that employed by tire companies when trading in an old auto tire, i.e., allowance made for the depth of tread still remaining. Soundings could be taken on the top, at the sides, and on the neck, then an average depth be struck and from say, a standard length of 1 inch the allowance be made.

The other method would be by area measurement. For those barbers who are not familiar with Euclid the barber schools might be approached with the suggestion that such a course be included on a learn-as-you-snip basis.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

Dropped Stomach No Worry

When I was a young man in medicine, back around 1920 or so, one of the most fashionable diagnoses we doctors had was a "dropped stomach" or a "dropped colon" (large bowel).

We had never thought of such a thing until about 1933, when we began to get X-ray pictures taken of the stomach and bowel of patients who were standing up at the time. That made a big difference—because previously all X-ray pictures of the stomach and bowel had been taken while the patient was lying on his back, or his stomach.

Naturally, many of us doctors became excited when we saw something that we had never seen before. It really was not dropped, it was elongated; it looked like a long stocking that reached from the midriff sometimes down as far as the pelvis. Many a time we found that the large bowel, because it is always fastened to the lower border of the stomach, was down in the pelvis.

Immediately, a number of physicians started treating most of their thin women patients with a tight belt or special corset which was to push the stomach up where it was supposed to be. Some surgeons began to spend most of their mornings operating on people—fastening the stomach or bowel up where they thought it should be; and some physicians told most of their women patients to sleep with the foot of the bed raised on three or four bricks.

Soon I lost all interest in dropped stomachs—for several reasons. One was that I noted that really there were no dropped stomachs because the upper end of the baggy organ was always fastened to the lower end of the gullet, and so it could not drop. The upper end of the stomach was always up right under the midriff, where it is supposed to be. What happened to the stomach of a very thin person was that, instead of lying across the upper abdomen as it does in a stout person (held up by much fat in the abdomen), or in a person lying down, it became much elongated and hung down.

I also noticed that most of the people I saw with a very low stomach and bowel had a perfect digestion; many had perfect health! One of the men with the worst cases of ptosis I ever saw was a prize-fighter who killed a man in the ring. The only reason why I saw him was because he was depressed over a love affair that was not going well.

Then three of my good friends, Drs. Van Nys, Moody and Chamberlain, X-rayed several hundred of the best athletes at the University of California, and found a dropped stomach or bowel in a high percentage of them. Obviously, then, a dropped stomach or bowel rarely produces any symptoms, and must not be regarded as a disease. The person with a very long "stocking" stomach almost always has a long, thin abdomen. The person with a transversely lying stomach often has a paunch! He needs treatment more than the person with a dropped stomach does.

In the few years after 1926, largely with the help of my friends Dr. Moody and the X-ray men, I did much to get most doctors to give up their habit of diagnosing and treating most of their patients for ptosis of the stomach.

I mentioned this here only because a number of my correspondents keep asking me how to treat the dropped stomach and bowel that their old-fashioned doctor had just diagnosed. All I can say is that the fat was largely forgotten back around 1928. In all my 25 years at the Mayo Clinic, I never heard of anyone diagnosing a dropped stomach.

Soon I lost all interest in dropped stomachs—for several reasons. One was that I noted that really there were no dropped stomachs because the upper end of the baggy organ was always fastened to the lower end of the gullet, and so it could not drop. The upper end of the stomach was

Zantedeschia Aethiopica to You

The plant known as calla has been grown as a flowering pot plant in our northern latitudes for more years than I can remember.

Only recently have we experienced with planting the plant into the open garden and leaving them there over winter.

Last winter Hilda we even had the audacity to leave a potted calla in a small pool.

WAVES POUND CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Big waves and riptides continued their assault on California beaches for the ninth straight day. At least four persons are believed to have drowned in heavy surf.

Lifeguards rescued 335 swimmers from an estimated 1,000,000 persons swarmed to the beaches Sunday.

Red danger flags snapped in the breeze and lifeguards shouted warnings at swimmers through loudspeakers.

West Side Story Festival Winner

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new production of West Side Story opened here Saturday night with a standing ovation and critical acclaim as the knockout of the seventh Vancouver International Festival.

"This is the best thing Vancouver has ever had—the biggest, the most," said James Barber of the Province.

"A tremendous show," said the Sun's Jack Richards. "Many people who had seen the New York production said this one had better pace."

Valiant, Eves
On B.C. Squad

VANCOUVER—Two Victoria athletes, distance ace John Valiant and sprinter Lynn Eves are among 21 track and field performers selected to represent the province at the Canadian championships and Olympic trials Aug. 7-8 at St. Lambert, Que.

Willy Krause of Trail will coach the team.

Selections were made following the B.C. championships, which ended here Saturday with one Canadian and three B.C. native records headed for the books.

The Canadian mark tumbled in the women's 440-metre medley when the Vancouver Northwestern club entry of Pat Plinnett, Dianne Pickering, Joanne Hetherington and Yvonne Breden ran the distance in 48.2 seconds, 8-10 of a second better than the old mark.

Vancouver Olympic Club's relay team of Sig Ohlemann, Don Bertola, Don Scott and Tom Bell set a B.C. record by running the mile in 3:19.6. The old record was 3:21.2.

Bertola set a B.C. record in the men's 1,500 metres final, running the distance in 3:48.3. The old record of 3:52.8 was set in 1960 by Vic Reeve.

Steve Spencer broke his own

B.C. high jump record by one inch with a leap of six feet, seven inches, only ½ of an inch below the Canadian native record.

Harry Jerome, a Vancouver sprinter turned University of Oregon student, won the 100 metres in 10.5 seconds and took the 200 metres in 21.3 seconds.

A man ed to the B.C. squad were:

Harry Jerome, North Vancouver, sprinter; Diane Grange, Trail, pentathlon; Peter Piotrowski, Vancouver, 100 and 400 metres; Sig Ohlemann, Vancouver, 800 metres; Don Bertola, Vancouver, 300 metres; Dianne Pickering, Vancouver, high and long jumps; Steve Spencer, Vancouver, high jump; Gerry Morris, Trail, pole vault; Bob Yarz, Vancouver, pole vault; Bob Watson, Vancouver, pole vault.

John Valiant, Victoria, distance runner; Don Scott, Vancouver, 800 metres; Yvonne Breden, Vancouver, 400 metres; Barry Adams, Vancouver, 1,500 metres; Dave Wighton, Vancouver, 800 and 1,500 metres; Dave Steen, Burnaby, 800 metres; Lynn Eves, Victoria, sprinter; Christa Leipert, Burnaby, javelin; Karen Emery, Haney, 400 metres; Gordon Dong, Vancouver, long jump; Linda Flair, Vancouver, hurdles.

GREAT BALLS OF FIRE! METEOR FLASHES GREEN, ORANGE HERE

A "bright green ball" of a meteor with "a long flaming tail" was seen over Beacon Hill Park Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Doherty of 4020 Saanich Road.

It was moving from west to east.

Mr. and Mrs. Doherty phoned the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Little Saanich Mountain, where an astronomer took down their description of the meteor.

"It probably exploded on entering the earth's atmosphere," the astronomer said. "Meteors are not uncommon in these parts but this is the first we have heard of for some while."

Award Ordered After Driving Death

Damages totalling $43,513 were awarded in B.C. Supreme Court here today to Mrs. Wardma Lillian Tobacco of Port Alberni.

She received the damages for herself and her two children, ages 5 and 13, because of the death of her husband—Thomas Tobacco of Port Alberni. He died of injuries sustained in a two-car collision at Port Alberni on Dec. 18, 1962.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton awarded the damages against Dominico Grillo of Port Alberni, finding that the collision was due to negligent driving by Mr. Grillo.

FINE FATHER'

He said Mrs. Tobacco and her children had sustained the loss of "a very fine husband and father who was part of a happy household." He was a steady worker and likely to continue in employment until the age of around 70.

Mr. Justice Wootton awarded Mrs. Tobacco $1,513 under the Administration Act and $32,000 under provisions of the Families Compensation Act.

Also under the Families Compensation Act he awarded $4,000 compensation to her daughter, Peggy Colleen Tobacco, 13, and $6,000 to her son, Robert Thomas Tobacco, five.

The accident occurred on Bruce Street, Port Alberni, near the intersection of Anderson Avenue. Mr. Justice Wootton found that Mr. Tobacco was driving with "care and caution" at the time. The defendant, Mr. Grillo, was driving at speed of 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone.

DRIVER AT FAULT

Mr. Grillo, he said, contributed to the accident by failing to yield right of way, driving too fast, driving without keeping an adequate lookout, driving with inadequate brakes and failing to keep his car under proper control.

When the case was heard in Supreme Court here last May, Mrs. Tobacco broke down in the witness box as she told of being called to the intersection of Bruce Street and Anderson Avenue.

"Our car was all bashed in," she said, "and then I saw my husband lying in the road."

George F. Gregory of Victoria appeared for Mrs. Tobacco.

Four Sisters Bruised, Cut When Car Flips

Four sisters escaped with only cuts and bruises when their open sports car overturned on Pat Bay Highway Saturday afternoon and skidded upside-down along the gravel shoulder.

The girls, daughters of Mrs. G. Thomas, 2095 Avondale, were saved from more serious injury by the windshild of their car which raised it slightly above the ground when it upended.

One of them, Connie, 12, was thrown clear along with the family dog as the car lifted off the ground. The others, Susan, 16, who was driving; Joanne, 19, and Barbara, Connie's twin, were trapped inside the car.

DRENCHED IN GAS

Passing motorists lifted the overturned car to let the girls free. They were covered in gasoline which drenched the car and the ground round about it.

The accident occurred shortly after 4 p.m. near the Michael Williams Kennels at 7199 Pat Bay Highway. It was apparently caused by the car going out of control on gravel.

DRIVER AT FAULT

Connie was released from hospital Sunday. Her sisters are reported in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital with gravel burns, cuts and bruises.

BUS STRUCK

Shortly afterwards a car driven by Norman Rebbitt, 5047 Cordova Bay Road, collided with a bus on the highway near the Berryland fruit stand.

The Vancouver Island Coach Lines bus was slowing to pick up passengers when the Rebbitt vehicle drove into its rear. George F. Gregory of Victoria appeared for Mrs. Tobacco.

City Hall to Close For Dowell Funeral

The City of Victoria will make special observance Tuesday of the death of Ald. Arthur Dowell by closing civic offices briefly and having city council present at the funeral.

Today, Ald. Dowell's desk in the temporary council chamber on Bastion Square was draped with black crepe, a setting of white delphiniums in the centre.

Mayor R. B. Wilson ordered city hall to close between 12 noon and 2 p.m. Tuesday. Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. at Sands Chapel, the Rev. John H. Garden officiating.

Surviving members of council and Mayor Wilson are expected to attend the funeral in a group. The service will be followed by cremation.

MEETING GOES ON

A meeting of city council previously set for Thursday will go as scheduled at 2 p.m.

Ald. Dowell, serving his 14th year in office, was senior alderman and chairman of finance committee. He died Saturday, a victim of cancer of the throat.

The family has declined flowers, suggesting donations may be made to the B.C. Cancer Fund, 1900 Fort Street.

Surviving family besides the widow Isabelle are a brother Alfred, a sister Sarah J. Dowell, nieces Mrs. Jack (Peggy) Clark and Mrs. John (Cora) Lawson, a nephew

Eric, all of Victoria, and nieces and nephews in England, where the deceased was born.

HIGHLAND DANCERS HOME VICTORIOUS FROM COMPETITION

Four Victoria highland dancers brought home medals from the New Westminster highland games held Saturday at Queen's Park Stadium, and a fifth brought honors back from Red Deer, Alta.

Winners in New Westminster were Teresa White of the Shellagh Mallard school of highland dancing, and David Watling, Cheryl Jackson and Jeffrey Kerr of the Adeline and Heather Duncan dance studio.

Seven-year-old Cheryl Raser won the aggregate trophy at Red Deer, Saturday, along with five medals and a special award for girls under 13 years.

Ask The Times

Q. Can anyone please tell us as to why the weather has been so poor this year? There has to be a reason for it, L.B.

A. Victoria gets its weather from storm tracks—path weather systems take—as they cross the Pacific and land on the west coast of the province.

In normal years the storm tracks recede north after the winter. This year they have remained well south and continue to keep our weather dull and showery.

Weather officials here are puzzled why the storm tracks have remained south this year.

HYDRO TO EXPROPRIATE

Land Seizure Approved

The cabinet today authorized B.C. Hydro to make its first land expropriation under new legislation approved this year.

The move followed breakdown of negotiations on a price between Hydro and a Kootenay landowner.

The dispute is probably the first of many to be triggered by the huge Columbia River power project.

The expropriation was necessary in order to proceed with relocation of 3.5 miles of Canadian Pacific Railway line near the site of the Arrow Lakes dam, a Hydro official said.

FLOOD AREA

The line will be flooded out when the dam is built.

The contractor on the $1 million project, Peter Kiewit and Son, was unable to carry on until he crossed the property identified by Hydro only as "a substantial area" of sandy beach owned by a Mr. Cateilmacof.

The Hydro official said the crown agency's policy is not to reveal details of its land transactions.

He declined to say the amount of money offered Mr. Cateilmacof, only that the landowner refused to accept the deal.

FURTHER TALKS

The Hydro official said further negotiations are underway, even though the property has been seized under terms of the B.C. Hydro Act passed by the legislature in March.

If the negotiations fail, he said, arbitration will be sought.

The act says that if the parties cannot agree the cabinet shall appoint a board of evaluators.

If their recommendation is not accepted an appeal is allowed to a judge, also appointed by the cabinet.

A nine-year-old boy cyclist was in collision with a car and suffered pelvic injuries at Kinnross and Eastowne Sunday night.

Peter Boland, 2424 Dryfe Street, is reported today in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

He was riding his bicycle along Eastowne when the accident happened. Oak Bay police identified the driver of the car as Theresa Smith, 19, of 1735 Bay Street.

Latest denunciation comes from Frank Doyle, well-known fruit grower at 5375 Old West Saanich Road.

Now, he said, the total acreage in cherries is about 18 acres.

This year growers will be lucky if they produce a total of 25,000 pounds of cherries, he said.

He said the problem of pollinating the blossoms in spring is one of the chief obstacles.

A rainy and cool season means the bees don't have time to complete their job, necessary if all the fruit is to set.

There isn't much that can be done about pollination, he said, unless the blossoms are artificially sprayed with pollen. This is done by firing shots loaded with pollen at the blossoms.

TOO COSTLY

But he said this method is too expensive for the average orchard.

The cherry-picking pirates are starlings, robins, crows, band-tailed pigeons and other fruit-loving birds, he said.

Their affinity for cherries equals those of man, he said. "They can deplete a tree in record time—a wink of an eye."

IT'S FOUL FOR FOUR WEEKS MORE

Victorians will be subjected to below-normal weather until mid-August according to the Dominion Weather Office.

This means we can expect both sun and overcast for the next four weeks, only less sun and more overcast than is normally experienced at this time of year.

The sunny Sunday weather brought the temperature up to 63 to 70 degrees at points across Greater Victoria.

It's foul for four weeks more.

MAIL BALLOTS COUNTED

$2.35 Per Day Increase Rejected by Phone Workers

B.C. Telephone Company employees here and on the Mainland have rejected a proposed $2.35 a day pay boost in a two-year contract, it was reported today.

Bert Jones, spokesman for the Federation of Telephone Workers of British Columbia (Ind.), said the 2,200 workers rejected the offer in a mail ballot. He would not report the margin of the vote.

Employees affected include plant staff only, although toll and traffic departments would be involved later on the basis of these negotiations.

SMALL ACREAGE

CARBIDE DINNER BELL

He said the use of a carbide detonator to frighten the birds away has proved only partly successful. This is a metal container containing carbide and water.

Few new plantations have replaced them because of crop uncertainty.

He claims the band-tailed pigeon is the worst offender when he is around.

"One year I saw a flock of pigeons strip all the cherries off my trees," he said. "They're still green. That didn't matter. I never saw cherries disappear so quickly."

Skimpy cherry crop irks grower Frank Doyle

Water drips on the carbide at regular intervals, causing gas to form, and explode.

He said the birds soon get wise to the regular "bangs" and the sound becomes a dinner bell for the feathered creatures.

Mr. Doyle said new home building also has reduced the number of orchards.

Older plantations have been cut down in the last few years to make room for subdivisions.

DEAR ABBY...

He's Overdoing It!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How does a young man has an apartment father tell his daughter's fiance of his own, but he has started that he hangs around her house coming here straight from work entirely too much? He comes every afternoon. My wife has over here even when he knows her routine housework to do and our daughter isn't home. The she doesn't feel comfortable.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Any Style Hairdo Is Yours With Special Permanent

By PENNY SAVER

In this day and age where glamor plays a major role in the life of most girls, it is encouraging to be able to pass on a few helpful hints on hair and beauty care.

One of the greatest boons to women was the invention of the inexpensive home permanent. In the day of waves and curls, perms did their job to perfection, and so, to keep up their former reputation, they have now been revised to give the latest sleek look.

Home permanent I found recently is specially designed to give body with or without curls—depending on the individual's choice. It sells at $2.25, and at present is available with a free sample of shampoo.

Perm is suitable for all types of hair and comes with a complete set of directions explaining the best curling methods for achieving the effect you want.

With all the new sun protection aids on the market, it is rare that one ever encounters the poor "pale face" who is burnt to an itchy crisp.

However, if you happen to be one of these less fortunate souls, I'd like to tell you about the special preparation I found recently for just such a condition.

Preparation is a water soluble lotion that sells at $1. It is ideal for the quick relief of itching due to sunburn, insect bites and mild poison ivy or oak irritations.

If you are interested in trying either of these products, call Penny at 382-3131.

going about it with him in the house. He's a good-hearted fellow, and we don't want to hurt his feelings, but we don't think we should have to entertain him when our daughter isn't home. So how do we tell him?

STUMPED.

DEAR STUMPED: Either the young man has been made to feel that he is welcome any time, or he is taking too much for granted. In any case, he should be set straight. And your daughter is the one who should do it.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I entrusted an important letter and some valuable literary material to a friend of mine, who promised that he would type them up for me. Every time I ask him for the material he makes some excuse. I have written letters to him asking him to return my material, typed up or not, but he ignores my letters. Can I accuse him of stealing them and have him arrested? I would like to teach him a lesson.

"N."

DEAR "N": Don't make any charges against anyone without first consulting some legal counsel lest you find yourself in even more serious trouble than you hope to get your friend.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell what's-his-name not to be too concerned about "canned music" in a business place—at least she can walk away from that.

How would she like to be blessed with a whistling neighbor who hangs his "canned music" on a contraption in his back yard every weekend while he gardens from sunrise to sunset? After five years of this, we have put our house on the market and hope that it is raining or he has laryngitis when a prospective buyer comes. Why don't people who are hard-of-hearing get a pocket radio with a hearing piece instead of entertaining the whole neighborhood with baseball games or beatnik music?

Tell Susiebel that if she can walk away from "canned music" she is indeed very lucky—we can't.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. F. P. De Laney, 2951 Eastdowne Road, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Eacott, 3538 Richmond Road. Soloist was L. Whittaker and organist, Gordon Britton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white delustered satin peau de soie styled with scooped neckline and bell-shaped skirt that swept to a cathedral-length train. Her white chantilly lace over-jacket featured lily point sleeves. The four-tier chapel-length veil of illusion net misted from a self-fabric pillar box headpiece. Red and white roses, white stephanotis and fern were in her bouquet.

Identical gowns of deep turquoise with matching over-jackets, self-fabric headpieces trimmed with toning veiling and shoes in tone were choice of matron of honor, Mrs. P. A. Robinson, Portland, Ore., sister of the groom; maid of honor, Miss Fay Brabazon and bridesmaids, the Misses Wendy Harbord and Heather Taylor, cousin of the bride. All carried bouquets of white carnations.

P. A. Robinson was best man and guests were ushered to pews marked with red and white carnations and white satin bows by D. Paterson, K. Dobell and D. Howie.

A three-tier wedding cake decorated with silver leaves and horseshoes centred the bride's table at a reception that followed in the Old England Inn. Col. R. Taylor proposed the toast to his niece's happiness.

On return from a honeymoon trip to the interior and Portland, Ore., the couple will make their home in Prince George.

The bride's going-away outfit was a pink wool boucle suit with matching pillbox hat, bone accessories and pink and white carnations en corsage.

MONTREAL (CP) — Vi Fogarty has the distinction of being a woman "toastmaster."

Purchasing agent for a chocolate company here, Miss Fogarty took some public-speaking courses through her firm. All those attending were men and they were members of Toastmasters' Clubs, an international organization.

They invited her to join them, so instead of becoming a member of a toastmistress's club, she joined the men's organization and is duly registered at its headquarters in Santa Ana, Calif., as a toastmaster.

Miss Fogarty also is the first woman member of the Purchasing Agents Association of Montreal.

Her identical twin sister works for the same company and both were members of the first women's hockey team in the city.

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Judy LaMarsh said last week Canadian women should start preparations now to celebrate the 50th anniversary of women's suffrage in Canada in 1971.

Miss LaMarsh told the biennial convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club the best way is to start actively promoting women for appointment to hundreds of public offices.

"There are women who are ready, willing and capable. I suggest that you should send in lists of names, inquire about appointments which are about to fall due, and put forward the names of qualified women."

Gulf Islands Handicrafts Show

Hundreds of beautiful handmade articles are being displayed in the Hudson's Bay Douglass Room at present.

Exhibition, sponsored by the Gulf Island Branch of the British Columbia Historical Association, shows the arts and crafts of the people from Galiano, Mayne, Salt Spring, North and South Pender, and Saturna Islands. It continues throughout this week.

A fascinating Gulf Islands patchwork quilt, combined efforts of members of the Women's Institute, is on display. Silk embroidered patches of scenes and buildings on the islands are sewn on a green-backing. Quilt is padded with carded wool taken from island sheep.

Proceeds from this quilt, raffled last year, went towards publication of a book: "Gulf Islands Patchwork." It was won by Dr. A. N. Beattie, retired public health officer.

Another very interesting display is the wool exhibit. Here one may see carding done both by hand and with a hand-operated wheel device. Spinning the carded wool on traditional wheel is also shown.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

What is Jack Paar really like? This question has been asked by millions who first watched the man as emcee of the NBC-TV Tonight Show and, more recently, his show on the same network Friday nights, also seen on Channel 8 in this area on Thursdays.

There were many versions offered of Paar, who has had more than his share of headlines, usually following a spate with the press.

He attacked the press vehemently on many occasions but realized with out them he would be just another television performer. They created the interest which caused the millions to tune to Paar to see and try to judge for themselves.

Paar, recently, appeared in a half-hour videotaped interview on his own station in Poland Springs, Maine. The interview, conducted by one of the station officials, was seen and reported on by Variety, the show business trade paper.

He said he had to sign with NBC-TV this year because he needed the money to pay for WMTW-TV, his TV-FM station.

He admitted paying $3,675,000 for a little more than 80 per cent interest in the station.

He said that since the Tonight Show he's lost all desire to be on-camera. The coming year's programs worry him because he has also lost all enthusiasm for his Friday night show.

He explained the last of his ambitions was to see Dr. Schwietzer.

"I have no ambitions any more. I may become lovable and dull. Show people bore me except perhaps Richard Burton. Actors you see me with on the air you'll never see at my home."

On the air Paar gushes over his guests with such enthusiasm you'd think they were long lost buddies. It's a marvel this insincerity hasn't leaked out to his viewers. Lovable, he may be. Dull, he is.

That is what Jack Paar is really like, by his own admission.

TIDBITS: David Wolper filmed the Republican convention for a 90-minute documentary, The Making of the President, 1964. He later will cover the Democrats' convention in Atlantic City. His "The Making of the President, 1960," won four Emmy Awards last spring. This 1964 election year is a special occasion for Walter Cronkite. It marks his 15th year as a CBS news correspondent.

NBC-TV and comedian-singer Allan Sherman are holding talks aimed at Sherman being regular host for next season's TW3. Anything would be an improvement.

When Mother Explodes It's a Blast

CAMPBELL RIVER — A mother of two is the first woman in B.C. to be issued a certificate of competency in blasting. Mrs. Bernice Davis of Campbell River, received the certificate from the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Board after successfully passing examinations.

Mrs. Davis' husband, Russell, is a blasting contractor whose work takes him away from home a great deal so his wife looks after shipping and receiving explosives at their magazine.

She took the blasting course after she tried to correct a blaster from loading inefficiently. He promptly reminded her that he had a blaster's ticket and she shouldn't tell him how to do his job.

That determined her to get a certificate.

Now if Mrs. Davis blasts a blaster, he listens.

Minor Fined $50

DUNCAN — For being a minor in licensed premises, Gordon Miles Parlee, of Lake Cowichan, was fined $50 in magistrate's court on Saturday.

Ottawa Urges Caution On Medicare Proposals

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Judy LaMarsh cautioned today that a comprehensive medical care program involves great expenditures which require detailed federal-provincial discussion.

Her opening statement to the federal-provincial conference of health ministers said the federal government still is determined to press forward with development of essential health services.

"It must be realized however, that the recommendations of the (Hall royal commission) report will involve substantial expenditures from provincial and federal treasuries.

CHOU PLEDGES SUPPORT FOR VIET NAM REBELS

PEKING (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai today pledged China's support for Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam.

He made the statement before a rally of 10,000 in the parliament building here marking the climax of a "Week of common struggle in support of the Vietnamese people's opposition to U.S. imperialist aggression." The rally coincided with the 10th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva agreements on Indochina.

"Expenditures of this magnitude may only be considered within the overall structure of our sources of revenue."

With the royal commission report on health services the opening item on the conference agenda, Miss LaMarsh said detailed discussion will not be feasible at the two-day meeting.

She asked the provincial minister to give their views on the form and timing of a further meeting later, noting that the royal commission proposed a federal-provincial conference on medical care within six months.

After the opening session today, Miss LaMarsh said there was "general agreement among the provinces of the commission recommendations.

She said the provincial spokesman "expressed the desire to proceed on a step-by-step basis" Continued on Page 2

He indicated he would know more after next month's Democratic national convention at Atlantic City, N.J. Wallace, a Democrat, said he has made no decision on whether he would attend the convention.

Wallace said he would support the major party candidate who proved to be the more conservative and zealous in supporting the principles of local government, private enterprise and states rights.

Within hours after his appearance in Washington, Wallace returned to Birmingham for a hastily-assembled strategy

Peace Effort Made in UN

OTTAWA (UPI)—External Affairs Minister Paul Martin said today all participants in the United Nations' Cyprus peace force are taking "collective action" in New York in an effort to ease the crisis on the Mediterranean island.

Martin said Canada's delegation at the UN was meeting today with representatives of other participating nations and that Tuesday they all would confer with senior UN officials who have been handling the Cyprus situation.

Greeks Maintain Cyprus Build-up

LIMASSOL, Nicosia (UPI)—Greek Cypriots, acting in apparent defiance of a United Nations appeal to end the Cyprus arms-buildup, were reported to day to have landed 36 truck loads of military equipment.

UN officials here were prevented from checking on the equipment, landed in the pre-dawn hours at this southern port and moved quickly into the Greek Cypriot stronghold of the Troodos Mountains.

Jeering Negroes Bombard Police

NEW YORK (AP)—Special forces of steel-helmeted police patrolled Harlem streets today after a weekend of racial rioting in which one Negro was killed and jeering mobs hurled missiles at police. Scores were injured.

The disorders broke out Saturday night, quieted down early Sunday and then broke out again Sunday night. Negroes lined rooftops to hurl bottles and other refuse on police.

An uneasy quiet settled over the area today.

In the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Police said snipers operating from roofs and behind parked cars accounted for most of those wounded.

Two policemen suffered minor injuries and six persons were arrested on weapons charges.

In the Harlem rioting Sunday night, three persons were treated at hospital for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects. Also hurt were a television cameraman and several newspapermen.

128 ARRESTED

About 20 persons were arrested bringing the total for the weekend to 128.

The initial outburst Saturday night followed protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. A Negro on a roof was shot and killed by police, 108 were arrested and more than 100 injured including a dozen policemen and a show girl.

James Farmer, a Negro who is national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said he tried vainly for five hours to stop the violence.

He said some white police officers were hysterical, frightened or trigger-happy. He said they fired indiscriminately into tenement and hotel windows, screamed "let's get those nigers" and attacked persons on the street and in a store.

Negro policemen he saw were standing or sitting on the sidewalk, taking no part, Farmer stated.

He said the actions of the white police could "fan the flames of black nationalism and hate."

The new flareup followed funeral services Sunday night for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lieut. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

Throughout the Sabbath, Negro leaders, in speeches and in conferences with police and city officials, had demanded Gilligan's arrest.

Every Racial Battle Brings Barry Votes

London (AP)—British newspapers said today the violence in Harlem holds grave dangers for the United States. One said it may carry Senator Barry Goldwater to the White House.

"America could be on the verge of something really frightening," said the Daily Sketch.

"Every flareup in Harlem, every petty punch-up between Negroes and whites that happens to rate a paragraph this summer will almost certainly mean more bitter, frightened votes for Goldwater."

"Every flareup like yesterday, in Harlem or anywhere else, increases the possibility that Barry Goldwater will move into the White House in January."

WEEK ON MARKETS

Windfall Bright Spot At Toronto

By GORDON GRANT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Wild fluctuations in speculative mining issues and a solid performance by blue-chip industrials provided Canadian stock markets with plenty of variety last week.

On the Toronto market daily volume ran as high as 10,000,000 shares as speculators scrambled for a long list of mining stocks with properties in the Timmins, Ont., area.

Focal point in speculative activity was Windfall Mines and Oils which gyrated widely, trading in a $2.70-$4.75 range.

All of the activity arose from rumors that Windfall had pulled a good drill hole on its Prosser Township property near the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s huge base metals discovery.

Monday the company—in reply to a Toronto Stock Exchange demand—issued a statement saying the core from the drill hole had not been assayed. The stock took a temporary setback, then roared ahead to $4.75. It closed the week at $4.50, ahead 50 cents.

ASSAYS SOON

The company announced as says would be available in the near future and would be made public immediately.

Tuesday, in less than one hour Glenn Uranium, a company searching for base metals in Wark Township near Timmins, churred through more than 2,000,000 shares, climbed from 27 cents to 85 cents, then settled around 45 cents.

Wednesday, P. C. A. Giaridine, Glenn's president, said that drills had not intersected sulphides or mineralized beds of any interest. The stock then drifted to its closing level of 38 cents.

It was then Bunker Hill's turn for a run. It more than doubled in price to 64 cents and moved back to where it started. Bunker Hill was popular in the initial April speculative spree, but has been only moderately active since its drilling proved fruitless.

Toronto also had a big day, moving from 20 cents to 43 cents and settling at 32 cents for a gain on the week of 10 cents.

SWITCH LOYALTIES

One market observer said it appeared as though speculators were picking their stocks with a pin, giving them a run and then moving onto something else.

Meanwhile, industrial stocks continued to make new highs spurred by a thriving economy and a buoyant New York market.

In Montreal, industrials traded 826,382 shares and 7,424,855 shares against 809,266 and 5,357,142 shares traded last week.

U.K. Plans New Assault On Canada

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Britain is bracing itself for another big assault on the Canadian market. The campaign looks like a determined one.

Canadian sales to Britain are running more than double those from the United Kingdom to Canada, and the British government wants to do something about it. An announcement of specified steps may be made early this week.

The first move is likely to be the creation of a new exports-boosting organization, headed by a dynamic figure familiar with Canada. One name suggested is that of hustling Sir William McFadzean, a dapper, 60-year-old Scot, whose company built the submarine power link between Vancouver and Vancouver Island.

The new trade organization, name as yet undisclosed, will replace the defunct Western Hemisphere Exports Council run by automobile magnate Lord Rootes. This body, a successor to the Dollar Exports Council, was wound up last March 31.

OIL FIRM 'BIG STICK' CHARGED BY RETAILER

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP)—Stanley Crowe, a Quesnel service station operator, charged Friday that oil companies are "holding a big stick over everybody in the industry."

He made the statement in testifying before the provincial royal commission inquiry into gasoline prices in B.C.

Mr. Crowe also charged that Imperial Oil had begun price cutting many years ago and that around 1954 established a boycott which put him out of business for two days.

The station operator, who operates under a Texaco sign, told the commission that when he buys gas he doesn't know "whether I am buying Shell or Imperial when I buy from Texaco."

Victoria Winery Launches Branch

EDMONTON (CP)—The president of a Victoria-based wine firm said Friday the firm's subsidiary will begin production of wine from an Edmonton plant early in October.

Ernest Warner of Victoria, president of Growers Wine Co., made the comment when he arrived in Edmonton to oversee construction plans of the subsidiary, Growers Wine, Alberta Ltd. Mr. Warner said the company

Condensate Field Found In Alaska

CALGARY (CP)—Exploration work in Alaska's Cook Inlet by a Calgary oil company has resulted in discovery of a major gas condensate field, Pan-American Petroleum Corp. of Tulsa, Okla., said here Friday.

Frank C. Osment, Pan-American executive vice-president, said the well, Cook Inlet 1A, tested at 661 barrels of condensate and 4,700,000 cubic feet of gas a day. The well was drilled in 100 feet of water about 36 miles southwest of Anchorage.

A Calgary official of Pan-American said the company has defined a 24,000-acre field. Development drilling will continue, he said.

He said a condensate flow rate of 600 barrels daily is a major discovery. Condensate is a highly-valued feedstock for certain oil refining processes.

The condensate likely would be shipped by sea to California refineries, the spokesman said.

He said the natural gas could be stored in the reservoir from which it is produced and could be liquefied for possible sale to Far East markets.

U.S. Power Experts Ready for B.C. Power

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Agreement was reported Friday on a plan for a proposed electrical power intertie between northwestern U.S. states and California.

He said the firm plans to invest between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 in land, buildings and equipment in Edmonton "as soon as we see how business develops."

Mr. Warner, whose firm has led the way in the development of fruit wines in Canada, said there is a great future in berry wines in Alberta.

Financial sources said it appears that some of Bloom's financial backers were unwilling to grant further credit and instead demanded liquidation.

The new sale totals about 1,835,000 bushels and will be shipped through west coast ports, likely in late summer and early fall.

With the earlier sale of 7,400,000 bushels announced Tuesday, Poland had filled its first-year commitment under a three-year agreement with the Canadian Wheat Board, the crown marketing agency.

Poland agreed to take 14,600,000 bushels in the first year and the latest sale puts it over the mark. Both of last week's deals were negotiated by a Polish delegation with the wheat board.

Both deals were credit sales, 10 per cent down at the time of shipment with the balance in three equal installments two and three years later.

Overbought

Another Communist bloc country, Czechoslovakia, also overbought its first-year commitment under its five-year agreement. Both Poland and Czechoslovakia signed up last fall.

The Czechs made an 18,300,000-bushel purchase last week worth $36,000,000, surprising Canadian grain traders by the size of the deal.

Although some of the wheat will be shipped to Czechoslovakia during the second year of the agreement, the European country overstepped its first-year commitment by a wide margin.

Czechoslovakia, which also negotiated its deal in Winnipeg, had taken 4,400,000 bushels prior to its new buy and the total first-year commitment was only 12,800,000 bushels.

Car Builders In France Cut Output

PARIS (AP)—The golden days may be over for the French auto industry.

Time was when French car builders had long waiting lists for all models, but things appear to have changed in the last few months.

Spring sales were a disappointment. May's registrations in France dropped 26,000 below the 160,000-ear average of the first four months of the year.

Two of the four French majors, state-owned Renault and family operated Peugeot, have voluntarily slowed production in recent months. Renault, which employs 63,000 persons, has added no workers since the fall of 1963. Peugeot with a series of extra-long weekends, has reduced the work week for its 25,000 employees from 46½ hours to 42½ hours.

A more drastic measure went into effect today—a one-day lay-off of most of the Renault workers at their principal plant and virtually all the Peugeot personnel.

The workers will receive partial compensation from guarantee funds held by both firms.

Widow's Suit Brings $43,513 in Damages

Award Ordered After Driving Death

Damages totalling $43,513 were awarded in B.C. Supreme Court here today to Mrs. Wardma Lillian Tobacco of Port Alberni.

She received the damages for herself and her two children, ages 5 and 13, because of the death of her husband — Thomas Tobacco of Port Alberni. He died of injuries sustained in a two-car collision at Port Alberni on Dec. 18, 1962.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton awarded the damages against Dominico Grillo of Port Alberni, finding that the collision was due to negligent driving by Mr. Grillo.

FINE FATHER

He said Mrs. Tobacco and her children had sustained the loss of "a very fine husband and father who was part of a happy household." He was a steady worker and likely to continue in employment until the age of around 70.

Mr. Justice Wootton awarded Mrs. Tobacco $1,513 under the Administration Act and $32,000 under provisions of the Families Compensation Act.

Also under the Families Compensation Act he awarded $4,000 compensation to her daughter, Peggy Colleen Tobacco, 13, and $6,000 to her son, Robert Thomas Tobacco, five.

The accident occurred on Bruce Street, Port Alberni, near the intersection of Anderson Avenue. Mr. Justice Wootton found that Mr. Tobacco was driving with "care, and caution" at the time. The defendant, Mr. Grillo, was driving at a speed of 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone.

DRIVER AT FAULT

Mr. Grillo, he said, contributed to the accident by failing to yield right of way, driving too fast, driving without keeping an adequate lookout, driving with inadequate brakes and failing to keep his car under proper control.

DRIVER AT FAULT

When the case was heard in Supreme Court here last May, Mrs. Tobacco broke down in the witness box as she told of being called to the intersection of Bruce Street and Anderson Ave. after the accident.

"Our car was all bashed in," she said, "and then I saw my husband lying in the road."

George F. Gregory of Victoria appeared for Mrs. Tobacco.

There were no injuries.

City Hall to Close For Dowell Funeral

The City of Victoria will make special observance Tuesday of the death of Ald. Arthur Dowell by closing civic offices briefly and having city council present at the funeral.

Today, Ald. Dowell's desk in the temporary council chamber on Bastion Square was draped with black crepe, a setting of white delphiniums in the centre.

Mayor R. B. Wilson ordered city hall to close between 12 noon and 2 p.m. Tuesday. Funeral service will be at 1 p.m. at Sands Chapel, the Rev. John H. Garden officiating.

Surviving members of council and Mayor Wilson expected to attend the funeral in a group. The service will be followed by cremation.

MEETING GOES ON

A meeting of city council previously set for Thursday will go as scheduled at 2 p.m.

Ald. Dowell, serving his 14th year in office, was senior alderman and chairman of finance committee. He died Saturday, a victim of cancer of the throat.

The family has declined flowers, suggesting donations may be made to the B.C. Cancer Fund, 1900 Fort Street.

Surviving family besides the widow, Isabelle, are a brother Alfred, a sister Sarah J. Dowell, nieces Mrs. Jack (Peggy) Clark and Mrs. John (Cora) Lawson, a nephew

Seven-year-old Cheryl Raster won the aggregate trophy at Red Deer, Saturday, along with five medals and a special award for girls under 13 years.

Ask The Times

Q. Can anyone please tell us as to why the weather has been so poor this year? There has to be a reason for it. L.B.

A. Victoria gets its weather from storm tracks — paths weather systems take — as they cross the Pacific and land on the west coast of the province.

In normal years the storm tracks recede north after the winter. This year they have remained well south and continue to keep our weather dull and showery.

Weather officials here are puzzled why the storm tracks have remained south this year.

HYDRO TO EXPROPRIATE LAND

Land Seizure Approved

The cabinet today authorized B.C. Hydro to make its first land expropriation under new legislation approved this year.

The move followed breakdown of negotiations on a price between Hydro and a Kooteenay landowner.

The dispute is probably the first of many to be triggered by the huge Columbia River power project.

The expropriation was necessary in order to proceed with relocation of 3.5 miles of Canadian Pacific Railway line near the site of the Arrow Lakes dam, a Hydro official said.

FLOOD AREA

The line will be flooded out when the dam is built.

The contractor on the $1 million project, Peter Kiewit and Son, was unable to carry on until he crossed the property, identified by Hydro only as "a substantial area" of sandy beach owned by a Mr. Catelma-coff.

The Hydro official said the crown agency's policy is not to reveal details of its land transactions.

He declined to say the amount of money offered Mr. Catelma-coff, only that the landowner refused to accept the deal.

FURTHER TALKS

The Hydro official said further negotiations are underway, even though the property has been seized under terms of the B.C. Hydro Act passed by the legislature in March.

If the negotiations fail, he said, arbitration will be sought.

The act says that if the parties cannot agree the cabinet shall appoint a board of evaluators.

If their recommendation is not accepted an appeal is allowed to a judge, also appointed by the cabinet.

A nine-year-old boy cyclist was in collision with a car and suffered pelvic injuries at Kinsmen and Eastwood Sunday night.

Peter Boland, 2424 Dryfe Street, is reported today in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

He was riding his bicycle along Eastwood when the accident happened. Oak Bay police identified the driver of the car as Theresa Smith, 19, of 1755 Bay Street.

A man injured when a big truck tire exploded and knocked him 10 feet was discharged Sunday after treatment at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Alexis Butler, 1370 Alan, was changing a flat tire on a garbage truck Saturday afternoon when the accident occurred.

He was putting the spare tire in place when it blew out, lifted him and threw him 10 feet. The truck is owned by L. S. McNutt Co.

A Victoria man and his wife were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday night after their car left the Trans-Canada Highway at Shawnigan Lake cut-off.

Thomas Buckle, of 615 Cook, was allowed home after treatment and his wife, Margaret, was released this morning.

Their car went out of control on a curve and smashed into a railway crossing signal. The vehicle was a write-off.

A neighbor who saw kitchen curtains on fire sounded the alarm for a blaze at 574 Agnes Street late Sunday night.

The fire at the home of George Bomhof was started by smouldering cigarette butts that were thrown in a garbage bag when an ash tray was emptied.

Saanich fire department extinguished the fire quickly on arrival. About $200 damage was done to walls and a kitchen cabinet.

IT'S FOUL FOR FOUR WEEKS MORE

Victoriaans will be subjected to below-normal weather until mid-August according to the Dominion Weather Office.

This means we can expect both sun and overcast for the next four weeks, only less sun and more overcast than is normally experienced at this time of year.

The sunny Sunday weather brought the temperature up to 63 to 70 degrees at points across Greater Victoria.

Bring 'Em Back Alive At Your Peril — Carl

Capturing a killer whale, as Vancouver aquarium hunters did last week, is a highly-dangerous game, Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the provincial museum, said today.

He said he knows of two attempts made to catch killer whales alive for commercial aquariums in California. Both were unsuccessful.

On the first occasion, he said, the hunters netted a calf and were about to congratulate themselves when they noticed a pack of killer whales wheel and face them in army formation. "They were in a small boat and they feared the pack would charge," he said. "They let the calf go."

The pack, apparently satisfied, continued on its way, he said.

TO THE RESCUE

On another occasion, he said, a young female was netted, but fought hard to escape. Then an angry male, presumably her mate, arrived on the scene. The hunters were forced to shoot him to avoid a clash with the mammal.

Meanwhile, he said, the net got entangled in the boat's propeller and the young whale escaped.

Dr. Carl said capturing killer whales is a job for men experienced in taking wild animals into captivity.

"They are intelligent mammals who mind their own business when left alone," he said.

REALLY A PORPOISE

Actually, he added, the killer whale is not really a whale. He is classed scientifically as a porpoise because of the pattern of his teeth.

Fishermen call the killer whales the wolves of the sea because they hunt in packs. They can swallow sea lions whole, crushing them first before gulping them down.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy has rejected demands to have a civilian board review the Powell shooting. Giligan has been retained on duty pending an investigation by the police department and the district attorney.

Before the funeral services, police sealed off a 57-block area in the centre of Harlem. Outside the funeral home, a crowd of about 500 gathered. Inside was a capacity crowd of 150 mourners.

A few minutes earlier, police broke up a band of 100 young Negroes who had been marching toward the funeral home.

Private burial was scheduled for today at Hartsdale, N.Y.

meeting with his slate of unpledged presidential electors.

NO INTENTION

Lieutenant-Governor James Allen, leader of the slate, announced afterwards that the presidential electors "have no intention of delivering the Democratic machinery over to the Republicans."

Allen declined to say who the electors might support, and said they would wait until after the Democratic convention to decide. He said Wallace's withdrawal has caused no change in the position of the unpledged electors.

Wallace has long contended that unpledged electors could bring the two national parties to a position where they would have to adopt programs more acceptable to the south, particularly on the civil rights issue.

He carried this campaign into the primaries of Indiana, Maryland, and Wisconsin, where he polled a strong vote.

In his television appearance, Wallace denied his decision had been made or influenced by anyone in either the Republican or Democratic parties.

The Alabama governor said he was sure his message was going to be heeded in Atlantic City, and warned that no candidate could win without support of the south.

CONDEMNED COURTS

He strongly condemned the federal court system and its support of the civil rights movement. He also criticized the press, and spoke out against violence.

Tom L. Davis, executive secretary of the North Carolina Democratic party, was one of those who scored Wallace's withdrawal. "Wallace let a lot of people down," he said. Davis added he felt that while some

SURPLUS FOOD STALL FILLS 200 HAMPERS

What was feared might be a lean day at the surplus food stall, Saturday, turned out to be a feast.

Two tons of potatoes, several crates of strawberries and donations of frozen food and money made it possible to fill 200 hampers.

Convenor Mrs. E. E. Harper reported that the improved employment situation in the city has reflected in the stall, as there were only 200 applicants, compared with the usual 300, or more, on the list.

Next stall will be held on Aug. 16 and anyone wishing to make a contribution should phone Mrs. Harper, GR 4-1750.

on the recommendations.

Mrs. LaMarsh also called today for discussion of hospital insurance, on which the federal and provincial governments share the costs roughly 50-50, and on the federal health grants.

She said she plans to give a progress report on the smoking and health programs and arrangements for a federal-provincial meeting in October on mental retardation.

Following her opening statements, provincial health ministers outlined their views on the royal commission report.

A summary of available provincial views:

Saskatchewan — General support of the Hall commission report, but the recommendations "would have to be implemented on a carefully staged program which would be dictated by available resources."

British Columbia — It endorses the principle of a health services program, but insists on provincial autonomy in running such a scheme, which would have to preserve the existing doctor-patient relationship.

Quebec — It is "not ready, for the moment," to establish a health insurance program, though it recognizes the necessity for one. Serious studies were needed on cost, operation and structure. When such a program begins, "full and complete" provincial jurisdiction would be essential.

Nova Scotia — For this province, the feasibility of such a scheme would depend largely on Ottawa's extent of participation. A major factor would be supplying adequate personnel to carry on a health plan successfully.

Ontario — A great deal of groundwork needs to be done among the governments before the recommendations can be discussed at a federal-provincial conference.

Newfoundland — General acceptance of the medical care proposals but implementing them would depend on the extent of federal participation. Some could be put into effect now if money was made available; others would take years.

Both British Columbia and Saskatchewan also pressed for inclusion of mental and tuberculosis care under the provincial hospital insurance program.

Such a step has been recommended both by the Hall commission and the Dominion Council on Health, a federal-provincial advisory body.

However, Mrs. LaMarsh indicated today the federal government is unlikely to start paying half the costs of hospital treatment for mental and tuberculosis patients until it sees the results of a federal-provincial review of the country's tax structure.

British Columbia's statement stressed provincial autonomy in the field of health services. It said the provinces have "primary jurisdiction" in the staging, scope and administration of health services. But federal financial assistance would be needed.

Car Crash Fatal to Youth

PORTE ALBERNI — A car accident here early Saturday morning took the life of a 19-year-old Alberni youth.

Victim was Larry Milligan, of 812 Johnson, who died Sunday night in Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

He was taken there Saturday from West Coast General Hospital, where he was first treated after the crash.

At the time he was suffering a fractured skull and his condition was not believed to be serious.

He was injured when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a parked car on Bute Street in Port Alberni.

Driver of the car was Bruce V. Jordan of Lakeshore Road, Alberni.

Police are still investigating the accident. No date has been set for an inquest.

HEART PATIENT DIES AFTER RELEASE

Thankful for One Day at Home . . .

VANCOUVER (CP) — A woman who had hoped for a new life with three unique artificial valves in her heart died only hours after she walked away from the hospital.

Mrs. Lillian Barker, 51, who agreed to the delicate operation three months ago knowing the possible consequences, walked across the parking lot of the hospital Saturday to her husband's car to go home.

"We are trying to be thankful that she made it home for at least one day," said her husband.

Mrs. Barker agreed to the operation last March after being told the operation had only been performed once before successfully.

A month later a team of doctors replaced three of her five heart valves with the new ball-in-cage valve devices.

She died before an ambulance could get her to the hospital.

"We are trying to be thankful that she made it home for at least one day," said her husband.

Mrs. Barker agreed to the medicate explanation for her death. An autopsy was to be performed.

4,000 Vote Against CMS Strike at Trail

SERIES OF FORAYS

Barry Prepares Plan of Battle

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on an active campaign boost from former president Eisenhower, is setting his political counsellors to work on battle plans for the race against President Johnson.

Goldwater flies back to Washington and his Senate desk today.

Tentative thinking on the Goldwater campaign shapes up this way:

1. It is likely to be a series of forays for major addresses with Goldwater based in Washington and Phoenix, not an extended series of whistle-stop appearances.

2. Goldwater forces are drafting plans for formation of a citizens committee, its head not yet chosen, which would seek to rally Democrats and independent voters to the Goldwater will conduct."

3. Goldwater, as he did in the California primary campaign, will rely heavily on television to carry his message to the voters.

The Arizona senator obviously was not unhappy about the withdrawal of Alabama Governor George C. Wallace from the presidential race.

Goldwater, who said he had never met the governor, urged in San Francisco a week ago that Wallace withdraw.

FERTILE LAND And the conservative senator has made it clear he views the traditionally Democratic south as fertile land for Republican vote hunting in the campaign ahead.

His formal statement, relayed through press secretary Edward J. Nellor, said:

"The governor's action was a surprise to me. I have no further comment at this time."

The senator had nothing to say about what impact the withdrawal of the Alabama segregationist could have on the Republican presidential campaign.

On the evening of the convention that nominated him, Goldwater told Florida Republicans in San Francisco he feared the Wallace campaign could develop into a third-party movement.

Goldwater said he hoped "ultimately in his wisdom—and he has lots of wisdom, he's a capable man—he would see he is adding more chaos to the chaos he says exists and would withdraw."

Leaving San Francisco Friday, Goldwater said of the Wallace race:

"If he confined it to the south, I'd be worried. But by extending it to 25 states or so, he can't hurt me. He'll hurt Johnson."

Wallace had said he would run in 16 states, perhaps more.

OVERTURES IN NORTH Representative William E. Miller of New York, the vice-presidential nominee, indicated he would like to see some overtures to the party's moderates.

Five people drowned and two others were killed in traffic accidents throughout B.C. during the weekend.

The sharp turn of a motorboat hurtled three persons to their deaths Sunday at Wood Lake, 20 miles north of Kelowna.

Scott Layng, 2, and his father, Roderick Layng, 31, of Kelowna, and Michael Maze, 4, of Oyama were three of five persons thrown out of the boat.

One boy managed to remain aboard the craft and returned to shore to pick up his parents before attempting to rescue the five in the water and two water-skiers the boat was towing.

They picked up the waterskiers and three of the five thrown from the boat, including Scott Layng who was dead when he reached hospital.

A search is continuing for the bodies of Layng and Maze.

A nine-year-old Nelson boy drowned while swimming in the pool at Ainsworth Hot Springs near Kaslo, and a nine-year-old Kaslo boy's body was found wedged against a log jam in Kaslo Creek. He too was dead when pulled from the water.

Police have not yet released the youngsters' names.

At Flood, just east of Hope, Edward Podovennikoff, 21, a resident at the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor camp at Agassiz, was hospitalized from injuries suffered when his car sideswiped a 35-ton gasoline truck.

The 6,000 gallons of gas aboard caught fire and burned for five hours, sending flares shooting 100 to 200 feet in the air.

The gas covered the highway, burning the pavement underneath.

The Trans-Canada Highway was blocked for five hours while motorists waited for the flames to burn out and the road to cool.

The truck was a burned out hulk. Driver Donald Leslie of Burnaby, who recently won a national safety award, escaped uninjured.

Police said the Podovennikoff car hit the trailer and knocked it off the rear axle. They praised the driver for managing to keep it under control and stop it from going over the bank onto the railway tracks below.

At Boston Bar in the Fraser Canyon, Robert Carson Clyne, 37, of Rolling Hills, Alta., was killed in a two-car head-on collision, and his fiance was critically injured.

Phyllis Joan Nawolsky, 26, of Calgary, is in Chilliwack Hospital with multiple injuries. The occupants of the other car suffered minor injuries.

METHOD NOT ALWAYS JUSTIFIED

Ike Argues With Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower has declared that Senator Barry Goldwater's remarks on extremism "would seem to say that the end always justifies the means."

But, Eisenhower added, "The whole American system refutes that idea and that concept."

Eisenhower, appearing on an American Broadcasting Company television program shown Sunday, discussed Goldwater's speech at the Republican national convention in San Francisco last week in which the Arizona senator accepted the party's presidential nomination for the November 3 United States election.

However, ABC explained the interview was taped before Eisenhower met with Goldwater in San Francisco Friday, a session at which the extremist passage of the acceptance speech was discussed.

The former president also said he probably would repeat his pre-convention role as a neutral another time, that he was opposed to debates between presidential candidates and that he regarded convention demonstrations as infantile.

Eisenhower was interviewed by James C. Hager, his former White House press secretary and now ABC-Paramount Pictures vice-president for corporate relations, and William H.

Lawrence, ABC news political editor.

Eisenhower said Goldwater's speech "by and large" was very outstanding.

Lawrence asked his reaction to the senator's two statements that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice and that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue.

"They do cause question in the mind the second you try to analyze them" Eisenhower said.

"Actually, in the first one it

3 Still in Hospital After Ganges Crash

GANGES — Three of four people injured in a three-car pile-up four miles south of here on Thursday are still in hospital.

One man died in the accident which happened on the Ganges-Fulford Road.

An inquest on Victor Sholes of Ganges opened Friday for identification and was adjourned indefinitely.

His wife, Mrs. (Poppy) Sholes, is in "just fair" condition in King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan.

Joseph Haire, 345 of Walter, Victoria, who was taken to Lady Minto Hospital with his wife, was allowed home at the weekend. His wife is expected to be released soon.

Fourth casualty, Frank Jones, of Ganges, is in satisfactory condition in Victoria Royal Jubilee.

RCMP say the accident occurred on the brow of a hill when the car driven by Mr. Jones overtook Mr. and Mrs. Haire, colliding head-on with the Sholes' car, and sideswiping the Haires' car.

'Copter Finds Lost Airman

A helicopter crew Saturday rescued a 20-year-old Victoria airman from northern Vancouver Island wilderness, hungry and unhurt.

Leading Aircraftsman Gordon Edlund, 4391 Chartwell, had been lost in forest near Holberg air force base for more than three days.

He was found half way along the 2½-mile trail he had decided to walk along on Wednesday.

Ground search parties had come within 400 yards of him on Friday, and missed him because of dense fog and difficult terrain.

He had no food, no matches, no sleeping bag, no equipment, and his clothes blended with the terrain.

He wandered off the trail and got lost in the bush, walking three miles one way and two the other on successive days.

Finally he decided to sit down and await rescue.

Honor Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor entertained at a recent buffet supper in their Rose Street home in honor of their daughter, Pearl, who was celebrating her 21st birthday. Among gifts presented to the honor guest was a dark mahogany silverware set, gift of her parents. Games were played. Guests included Mrs. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. B. Charters, Mr. and Mrs. R. McKean, Mrs. M. Parker, Mrs. M. Brown and daughter Joannie, and Mrs. Neil Stoneman, California.

At Ceremony

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony that united Miss Donna St. Clair Dawson and Mr. Norman Farkas included Mr. A. Dani Luck, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacLean, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. J. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. Huber, Mrs. Strommer, all of Nanaimo, and Mrs. Jim Buckner, of Ladysmith.

In City

Among out-of-town guests in the city to attend the Shaw-Brown wedding were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leslie of Dartmouth, N.S.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Baker Brown of Nanaimo, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw of Vancouver. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Rose Carter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberts and Mr.

Another First For Vi

MONTREAL (CP) — Vi Fogarty has the distinction of being a woman toastmaster.

Purchasing agent for a chocolate company here, Miss Fogarty took some public-speaking courses through her firm. All those attending were men and they were members of Toastmasters' Clubs, an international organization.

They invited her to join them, so instead of becoming a member of a toastmistress's club, she joined the men's organization and is duly registered at its headquarters in Santa Ana, Calif., as a toastmaster.

Miss Fogarty also is the first woman member of the Purchasing Agents Association of Montreal.

Her identical twin sister works for the same company and both were members of the first women's hockey team in the city.

START NOW—CELEBRATE IN 1971

Ottawa (CP)—Health Minister Judy LaMarsh said last week Canadian women should start preparations now to celebrate the 30th anniversary of women's suffrage in Canada in 1971.

Miss LaMarsh told the biennial convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club the best way is to start actively promoting women for appointment to hundreds of public offices.

There are women who are ready, willing and capable. I suggest that you should send in lists of names, inquire about appointments which are about to fall due, and put forward the names of qualified women."

Visitor—Mrs. M. Jones, right worshipful grand mistress of Lodge No. 424, Winnipeg, Man., was welcomed as special guest at meeting of Victoria Purple Star Lodge, No. 104, LOBA, held in the Orange Hall. Deputy mistress Mrs. L. Hamilton presided, assisted by junior deputy mistress Mrs. K. Minns. Mrs. A. Harris, formerly of Winnipeg, was welcomed as new member. Mrs. F. Noel reported on last meeting of the Local Council of Women. Plans were discussed for a social evening to be held on July 28 in home of Mrs. A. McKay, 1599, McTavish Street. Hostesses will be Mrs. R. Alexander, Mrs. L. Hamilton and Mrs. B. Blevins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin, 2601 Dufferin Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Rose, to Mr. Cecil Lorne Reay of Red Deer, Alta. The marriage will take place on August 15 in Oak Bay United Church, with Rev. A. Calder officiating.

Mrs. F. E. Robson, left, general convener, pins handmade jewelry on an ensemble of Norwegian design, made by Mrs. S. Thermo of Ganges, Salt Spring Island. The dark wool skirt is exquisitely embroidered. At right, Mrs. C. B. (Hope) Jennings, South Pender Island, spins some island wool.

Gulf Islands Handicrafts Show

Hundreds of beautiful hand-made articles are being displayed in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room at present.

Exhibition, sponsored by the Gulf Island Branch of the British Columbia Historical Association, shows the arts and crafts of the people from Galloano, Mayne, Salt Spring, North and South Pender, and Saturna Islands. It continues throughout this week.

A fascinating Gulf Islands patchwork quilt, combined efforts of members of the Women's Institute, is on display. Silk embroidered patches of scenes and buildings on the islands are sewn on a green backing. Quilt is padded with carded wool taken from island sheep.

Proceeds from this quilt, raffled last year, went towards publication of a book: "Gulf Islands Patchwork." It was won by Dr. A. N. Beattie, retired public health officer.

Another very interesting display is the wool exhibit. Here one may see carding done both by hand and with a hand-operated wheel device. Spinning the carded wool on traditional wheel is also shown.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Helen Copley, daughter of Mrs. F. Copley, 4220 Quadra Street, and the late Mr. Copley, to Mr. William David Carlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Carlow. 37

Maquinna Road. The wedding will take place on Saturday, August 15, at 7:30 p.m., in Wilkinson Road United Church, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. (Jus-Rite Portrait Studio.)

Hears Dawson-Farkas Vows

First United Church was decorated with pink carnations and white delphiniums for the ceremony that united Donna St. Clair Dawson, daughter of Mrs. Clair Knibbs, 944 Southgate Street, and Thomas Norman Farkas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Farkas of Nanaimo.

Dr. John H. Garden officiated and soloist David Sims sang "O Perfect Love."

Floor-length gown of white peau de soie was worn by the bride. French lace bodice was fashioned with square scalloped neckline and lily-point sleeves. French lace was repeated in the skirt panel. Her chapel-length veil misted from an aurora borealis tiara, and her bouquet was of red carnations, white gladioli and green fern. She was given in marriage by her brother, Herbert Dawson.

Bridesmatron, Mrs. C. Sundby; senior bridesmaid, Miss Crash Program

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—An experimental crash program is being held here to prepare teachers of oral French to work in elementary schools. Twenty-five teachers are taking the course, sponsored by the Ontario Curriculum Institute.

Dennis Corfield, Duncan, proposed the toast to his niece at the reception in Olde England Inn. Blue-tinted, three-tier cake, topped with three bells and doves holding rings, and flanked with silver candelabra centred the bride's table. Carnations, delphiniums and clarkia completed the decorations.

Their headpieces were of toning tulle held with two brocade roses in the front.

R. E. Erickson was best man, and guests were ushered to pews marked with pink carnations and heather-pink gladiola corsage. The newlyweds will make their home in Nainaimo.

Sometimes spinners leave wool unbleached and unwashed until after spinning, as quality is much better if spun with natural oils. Some sweaters made by Mrs. James Campbell, Saturna Island, were knitted from wool prepared in this way. One of her sweaters in natural color, has worked into it a dark brown pattern of horses' heads. The design is made of spun hairs from her Newfoundland dog.

In a large selection of island pictures are some lively scenes of pioneer life by A. R. Spalding and L. S. Higgs. These men went to South Pender Island in 1886 and were the first white settlers on the Gulf Islands. Land and seascapes, by other local artists, many depicting scenes on the islands, are featured in the collection.

Numerous ingenious lamps and candlesticks are fashioned from odd shapes of driftwood found on island beaches. Remarkable effects have been created by sanding, staining and varnishing.

One lampstand has a shade made by Mrs. Campbell. The natural-color wool in the shade has been sheared, carded, spun, washed and knitted by her.

These and further exhibits of jewelry, pottery, ceramics and many other hobbies add to this illuminating show of cottage craft.

FLORENCE (Reuters) — Italy's first bare-bottom outfit was shown today by Federico Forquet.

Some spectators laughed, others applauded and a few were shocked, but nobody interfered.

Worn by a petite Filipina model, the outfit had seven-inch wide braces which slipped off her shoulders revealing her bosom.

Many people thought it was an accident but the girl walked gaily on.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Baker Brown of Nanaimo and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw of Victoria.

Rev. Charles Scott officiated at the ceremony in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Baskets of peach and white blossoms were used as decorations. Soloist Al Smith sang the "Lord's Prayer."

Matron of honor Mrs. W. Leslie, sister of the bride, Dartmouth, N.S., and bridesmaids, the Misses Heather Fraser and Beverly Shaw, sister of the that has been in her family groom, wore identical gowns for 100 years was "something old" worn by Maureen Catherine Brown when she exchanged marriage vows with Norman Arthur Shaw.

Given in marriage by her father, she wore a princess-style gown of white taffeta that was enhanced with seed pearls at the scooped neckline.

Skirt was styled with four large inverted pleats and chapel-length train. The scalloped-edged, four-tier illusion veil misted from a cluster of organza roses centred with crystals. She carried white gladioli and Rapture roses.

Barry Helped As Wallace Quits Race

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Many southern conservatives were hopping on the Goldwater bandwagon today in the wake of Alabama Governor George Wallace's withdrawal from the presidential race.

Southern reaction ranged from "he let us down" to "he left us down." Others felt the withdrawal would have no effect on the race between Republican candidate Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona and President Johnson.

"I'm going to call the group together that's been working with me on unpledged electors and ask them to form an organization of Democrats for Goldwater," said Roy V. Harris, of Augusta, Ga., a campaign worker for Wallace.

Harris said he will attempt to have chapters of the Goldwater organization in every county and, if possible, in every voting district. "I believe we will have a majority of the white people in the state with us," he said.

Former governor Marvin Griffin of Georgia, a close ally of Wallace, said he would vote for Goldwater. "I have not left the Democratic party," he said. "They have left me."

Wallace withdrew Sunday as an independent presidential candidate, making the announcement over a televised program (CBS' Face The Nation).

MESSAGE HEEDED

Wallace said he was withdrawing because his objective has been accomplished. He said: "There is now more states rights talk than in a quarter of a century. I was the instrument of this . . . my message has been heeded."

He pledged endorsement to no one in advance. And to reporters who asked if his withdrawal meant most of the vote he would have drawn now would go to Goldwater, the Alabama governor said only: "Time will tell . . ."

He indicated he would know

Rioting Erupts In Harlem

NEW YORK (AP)—Special forces of steel-helmeted police patrolled Harlem streets today after a weekend of racial rioting in which one Negro was killed and jeering mobs hurled missiles at police. Scores were injured.

The disorders broke out Saturday night, quieted down early Sunday and then broke out again Sunday night. Negroes lined rooftops to hurl bottles and other refuse on police.

An uneasy quiet settled over the area today.

In the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Police said snipers operating from roofs and behind parked cars accounted for most of those wounded.

Two policemen suffered minor injuries and six persons were arrested on weapons charges.

In the Harlem rioting Sunday night, three persons were treated at hospital for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects. Also hurt were a television cameraman and several newspapermen.

12 ARRESTED

About 20 persons were arrested bringing the total for the weekend to 128.

The initial outburst Saturday night followed protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. A Negro on a roof was shot and killed by police, 108 were arrested and more than 100 injured including a dozen policemen and a show girl.

James Farmer, a Negro who is national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said he tried vainly for five hours to stop the violence.

He said some white police officers were hysterical, frightened or trigger-happy. He said they fired indiscriminately into tenement and hotel windows, screamed "let's get those niggers" and attacked persons on the street and in a store.

Negro policemen he saw were standing or sitting on the sidewalk, taking no part, Farmer stated.

He said the actions of the white police could "fan the flames of black nationalism and hate."

The new flareup followed funeral services Sunday night for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lieut. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

Throughout the Sabbath, Negro leaders, in speeches and in conferences with police and city officials, had demanded Gilligan's arrest.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The Best Laughs of the first half of 1964 were about Senator Goldwater, the Beatles, the Burtons, the topless bikinis, and President Johnson's penchant for pulling his beagles up by the ears.

"It was O.K. by me when I heard about the President pulling them up by the ears," said Jack Herbert. "I thought they said 'The Beatles'."

Bob Hope said, "Topless swim suits are a great fringe benefit—for the beach boys." Bill Miller, men's designer, came out with men's bottomless swim suits. Brigitte Bardot was quoted: "I wouldn't be caught in one of those topless bikinis—unless it was also bottomless."

The Goldwater gags ran according to this pattern: "I'll carry all 13 states . . . I'll be on TV from 10 to 9 p.m. . . . I hate to take an ocean voyage, I'm afraid I'll sail over the edge."

Marty (Hello, Dere) Allen

prepared a short poem in honor of Burton and Elizabeth Taylor. Burton was so enchanted with it, at a party given by Carol Channing that he insisted on reading it himself like this:

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like Rome."

Allen and Rossi got guffaws at the L.A. Cocoanut Grove weeks before. Allen said, "All the men in America are happy tonight, Liz Taylor is back in circulation. She just got married again."

INDIANS GOT EVEN

Vaughn Meader said: "The colonists came to America to beat up the Indians but the Indians got even by teaching them to smoke tobacco."

"Smoking may not cause cancer," noted Bob Orben, "but it definitely causes re-ports."

And Benton Berman said, "It's hard to imagine a political candidate being chosen in a chewing gum-filled room."

Christine Keeler got out of jail for good conduct . . . Now that's a precedent," commented Mort Sahl. "There were a lot of jokes about Bob Moses' strong rule of the World's Fair, usually with the punch line, 'Holy Moses!'" There was a rash of "fresh fruit" jokes such as "What's purple and bushes?" . . . An electric plum . . . What's purple and goes bang, bang, bang? . . . A four-door grape . . . What's purple and raises Beatles? . . . Grape Britain."

Everybody was a comic. Sean Jacobs asked his wife to straighten up the house and she said, "Why—is it tilted?"

Sammy Davis had the ad lib of the year at the Oscar show when a Price-Waterhouse representative handed him the wrong envelope. Realizing the error, he exclaimed, "Wait'll the NAACP hears about this!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Princess Grace wants to attend the Fair, late in September . . . The production staff of "Agony and Ecstasy" phoned from Rome to have pastrami sandwiches airmailed to them from the Stage Deli.

Sammy Davis Jr. got a six-foot portrait of himself, made from 6,000 flowers, from Bill

Harrah . . . Louis Armstrong has more than $1 million in bookings set for the next 10 months . . . Peter Sellers wants Rita Tushingham (of "Girl With Green Eyes") for his next film.

Paul Newman pedaled his bike to Shine's, checked it in the cloakroom . . . Alfred Hitchcock signed his "Marnie" star, Tippi Hedren, for two more films . . . Yul Brynner's learning German for "Morture;" it's his sixth language.

Roger Price is writing GRUMP, a book of celebrities' favorite gripes.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It seems (says Arnold Glasgow) that women are buying their clothes on the installment plan—and just wearing the first installment.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A bald boaster, that he's a multimillionaire: "That is, if you count my wife's trading stamps."

EARL'S PEARLS: Being polite to your wife only makes her wonder what you've been up to.—Harold Coffin.

That's earl, brother.
